My Morning Manifesto

I want to create a morning stack that asks the following questions:

Morning Manifesto (this is created during an assessment when I first use the app, My first morning stack will ask me to create the responses to this section, and then every morning after you will display the outputs. I can always go in and edit, but when I edit it edits it at a database level so it will continue to show the edited input each morning)

Your WHY?

- My WHY is to create a better world for as many people as possible by helping them find their true self, love for their self, and the calling that lives in their DNA that makes life the most abundant experience ever.

WHO are you?

- I'm Maxwell Mayes. I'm a Son of God, who has divine power from God living inside me. Fundamentally, I am me. I am.
- My values:
  - Integrity, honesty, creativity, exploration, adventure, love, growth, hope, inspiration, joy, confidence, being the best that you can for nothing other than being the best that you can
- The story of my beliefs:
  - I am exactly where I need to be at the exact point that I need to be here. By stewarding the present moment, I find a peace in progress without the pain of perfection. I tap into a life that's creative, lovely, and calm. I believe that God is my Lord and Savior and that he loved me so much he sent his only son to die for my sins, so that one day, he could look at me from heaven and give me a hug and say, "well done my son"
- The story of what I do:
  - I can...
    - Be successful and be all that I want to be because my focus creates tremendous movement and pace, and when I lean into that I always create massive progress. I can be rich because my time is inherently valuable and I change the world for many people. I can be successful because my story and my life opens up a place for people to become better
  - I will...
    - Change over a million people's lives because the entire universe and God is here to support me. God made me someone that people want to hear from while making me relatable and open and honest he's created something amazing in me that will change the world.
  - I can't...
    - Fail because with everything at my back, my momentum, the people I have around me, and my sheer desire and willpower make it impossible for me to be anything other than successful.
  - I won't...
    - Fall into a trap of mistaken lies that I'm not good enough or that I have to work so hard to become more, because doing that would be out of alignment with who I am fundamentally.

The story of my environment:

- My body is healthy and energetic which means I can do anything that God puts in front of me and by monitoring my energy and my joy, the feelings I feel somatically, I can automatically recalibrate to get back on track.
- My time is spent in the most productive ways, first by calibrating to my ideal goals, dreams, and desires, and my unconsciously focusing on those I filter everything else out that is just noise so I can only see the signals of what I need.
- My daughter is the most amazing thing in my life and I love creating an environment for her where she can blossom into the most amazing human in the world.
- My friends have my back and I have theirs because we come together to create magic, each of us serving the other with our gifts and talents.
- My relationship will form when the time is right and I know that God will put the right person in front of me for myself and for Violet.
- My parents are the amazing people who raised me to the best of their ability and turned me into the amazing man that I am. And I will support them from this day forward so they never have to worry again. They've sacrificed more than their fair share and I'm beyond grateful for that.

What are 3 goals that my future self accomplished?

1. Changing the lives of over a million people by helping them find God while finding themselves to create the purest and most aligned version of themselves.
2. I have built a business that focuses around transformation and the general tools and applications that help people leverage technology to accelerate the process of self-discovery.
3. I have created an amazing home and environment for myself and for Violet with a woman that loves us, understands us, and helps us grow.

WHO is that person that achieves those goals?

1. I am focused on a vision that's bigger than myself and I am committed to building something that creates this transformation. I'm focused. I'm a visionary. I'm creative. I'm confident. I'm a creator.
2. I am a leader, I'm a CEO, my big ideas come to life because I know how to give them to a team that I've fostered to be all stars.
3. I am present. I'm peaceful. I'm calm. I'm aligned. I'm love.

WHAT are the feelings you feel that make this story true?

- I'm on fire right now.
- I am aligned.
- I'm discovering myself.
- People love to be led by me and they are receptive to the feedback I give them to grow.
- My presence creates peace and power.
- I am leading a team to the playoffs. I'm the MVP and the coach because I play the game and I get them to play their best.
- I'm in quantum growth mode so all of my transformation happens with ease because it's who I am.
- I am so fucking excited about everything that lies in front of me because I know that anything I interact with has a positive change in this world.
- I have a lightness about me that is refreshing to the soul.
- I am connected to God as a son of God.
- I am so abundant that I can't even give it all away because so much more keeps coming in and my gratitude in these moments changes everything.

What's the proof you have of your past wins?

- I took Rich's team and restructured it and got total strangers to follow me towards and ambitious goal.
- People are blown away with my ideas of how to create things, make them better, and architect systems that change categories.
- My advice changes the lives of people who are willing to listen.
- My certainty holds space for those who need it.
- My strategies explode and even where they're perfect, they still gain massive momentum.
- My copy and my insights shift the way people live by not just inspiring them, but separating them from a past self that no longer serves them.
